What I Am Thankful For....

I'm thankful for many things, many things indeed. A roof over my head, food in my tummy and a house filled with love. I am thankful for my teachers, who help me learn and for my friends, who lift me up when I am down. I have thanks for my life filled with good times and sorrows and times that I don't want to end. I'm also thankful for the people, who have put me down because that has made me stronger mentally and emotionally.

In life, we can be thankful for things like getting an "A" on a test or passing a driver's test. In my life, I am thankful for my family, friends and horseback riding. I am thankful for the clothes I wear and the air I breathe.

Last but not least, I am really thankful for being on this earth and living my dreams. I am thankful for many things, many things indeed.

BARN ARCHITECTURE AND BARN PRESERVATION OPTIONS
Learn the distinguishing characteristics of the barns in Bucks County and the variety of methods that are being used to preserve these rural gems.

On Sunday, January 27th, from 2-4pm Makefield Meeting is pleased to have the opportunity to host this wonderful presentation by the Heritage Conservancy.

Jeffrey L. Marshall, Heritage Conservancy's Vice President of Resources Protection will present a PowerPoint presentation on the book, "The Barns of Bucks County" which he co-authored with Willis M. Rivinus. This book is a pictorial guide to the rapidly disappearing American icons containing 300 photographs that highlight the variety of Bucks County barns from the early 18th century through the early 20th century. Mr. Marshall will use the book's highly illustrated text to present the variety of barn types found throughout the country and discuss the common barn construction features and different types of timber framing techniques that were used to create these castles in the fields. A brief book signing will be held after the presentation.

For more information on this presentation or any of the good works of the Heritage Conservancy you may call them at 215-345-7020 or visit them on the web at www.heritageconservancy.org.

Thanks go out to the Heritage Conservancy for this text.

NEW WEB SITE LAUNCHED

PYM's new website for Children's Religious Education & Spiritual Life is easy-to-use, pretty, and chock full of resources for everyone who has a hand in nurturing our children.

The website (www.pym.org/education/children) is designed to be a support to First Day School teachers and religious education committees, of course, but it also seeks to be a resource for parents and for Meetings as a whole. After all, nurturing the seeds of Quaker faith, practice and witness in our children is a more comprehensive job than can be handled in a 45-minute First Day class!

The new website complements and links to other religious education sites. Curriculum Capsules (www.pym.org/education/capsules) provides summaries of PYM-produced curricula, many of which may be downloaded for free. Another standby is the archive of past issues of the Religious Education newsletter, Making Space (www.pym.org/education/relednews/). Contact: Christie Duncan-Tessmer (PYM Children's RE Coordinator at 215-241-7008; christied@pym.org for more information.

Christie Duncan-Tessmer debuted her fabulous new Children's RE web site at Interim Meeting on November 29th. In true Christie fashion she has topped herself yet again and all for the love of our children. Please be sure to check out this new site, it's not just for RE teachers. It's deep and rich just like Friends, so give yourself the gift of some time to fully explore this resource.
